

SEPTEMBER PERMITS CROWD THE RECORD

One Hundred and Seventeen
Issued for Buildings Costing $317,015.

Building Inspector A. B. Hirth's report for the month of September, issued Wednesday, shows that building in Salt Lake City has been exceedingly brisk for the last thirty days.

Within the month just ended 117 building permits were issued. This is within twenty-three of the record. The aggregate estimated cost of the buildings for which the permits were issued was $317,015, divided as follows: Brick buildings, $200,550; frame, $41,275; alterations and additions, $15,190.

Among the important permits was one taken out Wednesday by the Koala Fuel Manufacturing company for the erection of a two-story frame building at 679 West Sixth South street to be used as a factory for the manufacture of koala, a new fuel, for sale in Utah and Nevada. The cost of the building is $7500. The company is incorporated under the laws of Utah with a capital stock of $250,000. The new fuel is manufactured from the waste of coal mines, such as slack, with the addition of a mixture possessed by the incorporation.

BOYS' CLASSES NOW IN FULL SWING AT Y. M. C. A.

The boys' classes of the association institute of the Y. M. C. A. are now in full swing and the indications point to a heavy enrollment of men at the opening of the men's classes on Thursday night. The enrollment of boys is larger than last year, which was the banner year. So far this season 215 students have enrolled as against a little over a hundred last year at this time.

A new department of the institute which is recognized for the first time this year is that of music and art. This department will include instruction in singing and the elements of music, violin, piano, organ, mandolin, guitar and cello, freehand drawing and painting. The instrumental music will be conducted on the individual instruction plan. Class work in singing, sight reading and the elements of music will be conducted by M. J. Brines, soloist and director of the First Congregational church choir. Drawing and painting will be under the instruction of Donald Bearegard, who has recently returned from several years of study at Sorbonne university and the Julian academy at Paris.

In the latter school he was the winner of the first prize in the exhibition of 1907. The other instructors of this department are: Violin, Claude J. Nettleton, a member of the Salt Lake Symphony and the Salt Lake theater orchestra; piano and organ, Edward P. Kimball, organist for the First Methodist church and assistant organist of the Tabernacle; mandolin, guitar and cello, C. D. Schettler, director of Salt Lake Mandolin and Guitar club.

PARLEY P. CHRISTENSEN NOW MAN OF FAMILY

Two Daughters of Alonzo Booth
Placed in His Custody by Court.

Parley P. Christensen, although unmarried, is now a man of family. Mr. Christensen appeared before Judge E. G. Gowans of the juvenile court Wednesday in the case of the minor children of Alonzo Booth, charged with mayhem upon his 13-year-old son, Edward, and at his request was awarded the care of Booth's two daughters, Dorothy and Dora, 8 and 11 years old respectively, who were committed to the State street orphanage upon their father's arrest and have been there since.

Booth desired that Mr. Christensen be awarded the care of his son, who is now at the Utah Industrial school, but Guardello Brown, superintendent of the school, is averse to allowing the boy to leave the place and this request likely will not be granted.

Booth is out on $1000 bail awaiting trial for the alleged offense against his son. Christensen & Christensen, of which firm Mr. Christensen is a member, are his attorneys.

Axel Gustavson, of 328 Eighth East street, was before the court on the charge of neglecting his children. Mrs. Gustavson died recently and Gustavson, it is said, leaves the six children ranging in ages from 2 to 12 years, at home without care or attention except such as the oldest child, a girl, was able to give them.

The juvenile court haled Gustavson before it and instructed him that he must procure the services of a capable woman to care for and keep the children or they will be sent to the detention home or orphanage.

In all eight cases were heard, four of which were those of young girls charged with keeping bad company. They were released with a reprimand upon their promise of better behavior.

GOV. CUTLER AND STAFF VISIT BIG FOUR FAIR

Gov. John C. Cutler and his staff went to Ogden Wednesday to attend the opening of the Big Four county fair. The governor and party left here over the Oregon Short Line at 9:30, arriving at the Junction City at 10:30, where they were met by a band and escorted to the fair grounds. The party returned home early Wednesday evening.

Among the other distinguished persons who attended the fair from here was Mayor John S. Bransford. The fair will last four days.

STATE FAIR EXHIBITORS IN THE FINAL RUSH

A big rush of prospective exhibitors marked the closing hours for entries to the coming state fair Wednesday night and by midnight it was evident that all previous marks in the twenty-nine exhibitions had been passed. There will be a number of additional entries in all departments, but those listed up to midnight will only be eligible for the premiums and awards. In every department this year a marked increase in the numbers of individual exhibits is noted, while perhaps never before in the history of the organization has the state as a whole been so well represented.

AMUSEMENTS

IN SALT LAKE THEATERS.

GRAND THEATER—"The Cowboy Ranger," by the Felzer Stock company. Evening, 8:15.

ORPHEUM THEATER—Advanced vaudeville. Matinee, 2:15. Evening, 8:15.

LYRIC THEATER—Camelophone. Talking moving pictures. Matinee, 2. Evening, 7:30.

The sale opens Friday morning for the musical comedy, "The Cowboy Ranger," which will be presented at the Salt Lake Theater next week. It is a show which is so well known and liked here that there is no need of an unusual demand for seats. This year's production is said to excel last season's in the matter of presenting company, and as the scenery and costumes are all new, the pictorial features of the entertainment will be found to be much more elaborate and beautiful. Tom Waters, a comedian of the ability, hands the cast, and Miss Leona Thurber will be seen as Mrs. Kobb.

Promptly at 2:15 today, Thursday, the Orpheum will ring up the curtain on the matinee performance of "The Cowboy Ranger." This are several star acts and all are winning popular favor. Melville and Stetson are the headliners, and besides them there are six other attractive features. The bill runs through the remainder of the week, with matinees daily. Capacity business has prevailed all this week.

The gallery at the Grand isn't the only part of that theater which has been packed the past few nights by crowds witnessing the presentation of "The Cowboy Ranger," by the Felzer stock company. The auditorium of the theater has drawn some of the biggest audiences of the Grand's old-time patrons the house has had this season, and the popularity of the thrilling melodrama continues. There is one of the greatest fight scenes in the piece ever staged here. Next week, "In a Woman's Power" will be played at the Grand.

A SALT LAKE BOOSTER

Owing to the many requests for the Gans Nelson picture that was shown at the Elite theater last week, Mr. Max Florence, the president and manager of the Elite Theater company, has decided to bring the picture back to Salt Lake and will show it at the Crystal theater on South Main street for one week, commencing October 3, continuously from 2 to 11 p. m. daily. In order that all may see this great picture, Mr. Florence is making prices of 5 and 10 cents at all performances.

On account of previous contracts for special pictures for conference week at the Elite theater, Mr. Florence was compelled to procure the Crystal theater on South Main street at the enormous expense of $100 per day rental and the picture at $500 per week rental.

On account of the limited seating capacity of the Elite last week, and so many patrons being unable to see this picture, Mr. Florence is doing this to please them all, and in so doing shows his aggressiveness and willingness to please the public and is proving himself a Salt Lake booster.

If money gets it, the Elite Theater company certainly has it.

EXCAVATION BEGINS FOR CLUB BUILDING

Work on the excavation for the foundation of the new Commercial club building at the corner of Exchange place and Cactus street was begun Monday and within a short time will be well under way. Officials of the club said Wednesday that the architects, Ware & Trogonza, were still working on the revision of the details of the upper stories of the new building and that the plans could not come before the board of governors for consideration for a week or two.

In the meantime, however, work on the excavation will proceed and the foundation, which has been approved, will be started as soon as possible.
